Very often history can't give us the answers to our questions - we simply do not know who built Stonehenge, or why, or what religion was practised there. We will probably never know because there were no written records, so we can only make what we hope are intelligent guesses, and historical novelists are as well placed to do that as ...

Stonehenge | Bernard Cornwell

There was something about Bernard Cornwell's version of these bronze age people and their mystical and monolithic Stonehenge, that captured my imagination and I felt stirred by both them and their pristine, unpolluted environment. They were innocent and gullible, ignorant and sweet, yes, even at their deadliest or maddest.

Stonehenge: A Novel of 2000 BC.: CORNWELL BERNARD ...

Bernard Cornwell is a master of the historical novel, regardless of the era he tells of. "Stonehenge," not unsurprisingly, refers to the building of Stonehenge, circa 2000 B.C. The story is a wonderful blend of archaeology and invention. Mostly invention, but wonderfully done. Cornwell invents a tribal society and believable customs to go with it.
